Dear Noah,

Congratulations! On behalf of the Admissions Committee, I am honored to offer you admission to the Class of 2025 at Dartmouth College. You shared an impressive application with us, and I invite you to begin study with our faculty of Arts and Sciences in September.

I am also pleased to inform you that you have been chosen as a Jack Byrne Scholar in Mathematics for the Class of 2025. The scholarship supports passionate students in the field of math who show great promise. Launched in 2015, the program honors the legacy of industry innovator, community leader, and Dartmouth parent Jack Byrne, by providing an array of experiential learning opportunities that complement the legacy of exceptional teaching and research in the College's Department of Mathematics.

As a Jack Byrne Scholar, you will receive an enrichment grant of $5,000 for up to three of your leave terms to offset expenses associated with research, internships, and travel to conferences related to the field of mathematics. The total potential value of this offer during your undergraduate years at Dartmouth will be $15,000. While Jack Byrne Scholars are not required to declare a major in mathematics, this opportunity encourages you to consider an academic path in mathematics. Please contact Christopher Bordeau, associate director of admissions, at christopher.w.bordeau@dartmouth.edu if you have any questions.

Your admission to the College, during what was a historic admissions cycle for us, reflects our confidence in your outstanding record of academic and personal achievement. You will add an important voice to Dartmouth's classrooms and undergraduate community, and we are excited to welcome you to Dartmouth.

Our offer of admission is made with the expectation that you will maintain the level of scholarship and personal excellence that characterized your candidacy. Accordingly, we will carefully review your performance during the remainder of your senior year—in whatever learning format and grading system your school has followed during these uncertain times. If you enroll, we ask that your final transcript be forwarded to the Office of Admissions as soon as it becomes available, but no later than June 30.

As you consider your enrollment decision, please join us throughout the month of April for virtual programming designed to help you explore and appreciate the full range of intellectual and social opportunities Dartmouth offers its undergraduates. Excellence in teaching is one of our signature points of distinction, and we will do our best to showcase our classroom experience and the mentorship it fosters. On our web page for admitted students you'll find registration opportunities and a schedule of events just for you, as well as everything you will need to know as you imagine life as a Dartmouth student. In addition, we encourage you to join the Class of 2025 Facebook Group to connect with peers

To confirm (or decline) your place in our Class of 2025 and your Jack Byrne Scholar offer, please complete our online enrollment form at <https://apply.dartmouth.edu/status> by 11:59 p.m. Eastern Time on Monday, May 3. Rather than a deposit of money, it is the integrity of your (electronic) signature that holds your place in our entering class. In the meantime, please contact us if we can be of any help to you as you consider our offer. You can reach us by email at apply@dartmouth.edu.

Congratulations again, Noah, on your acceptance to the Class of 2025. Welcome to Dartmouth!

Sincerely,
